Definition of a good boss: A person who finds a special spark in each employee and fuels that spark so that all around, customers and fellow employees alike will be warmed by the fire's glow.

Most important lesson learned: Every person has been given one special gift and one place in life they were meant to be. The more you align your life with that special gift, the happier you and all around you will be.

Secret to success: Do what you say you're going to do, plus a little extra.

Best advice you ever got: "Just keep doing the right things for the right reasons and you'll get the right results."

Quality you most admire: A great smile.
